AQUAPROTECT®
WATERPROOF LEATHER

HISTORY

Blondo is a one hundred and nine year old Canadian heritage brand, founded by Loretteville, Quebec moccasin maker Harold Blondeau. Renowned for style, comfort and quality, the brand features waterproof technology in all of its product. In the mid-1980s, Blondo introduced its first line of leather fashion, waterproof boots, leveraging its hundred years of expertise.

In 2005, the brand made strategic investments to increase quality, function and durability. The focus was to make cold-weather and waterproof footwear stylish and on trend. In 2015, Steve Madden acquired the iconic Canadian waterproof brand, and expanded it across the US Market. Blondo has seen great success in the US market and is stocked by the best department stores and online retailers.

Today, continued passion for innovation, style, and function, have enabled the debut of a Spring collection making Blondo a leading year-round fashion and lifestyle brand with comfort, technical and waterproof features. The collection boasts an array of gorgeous items that have waterproof technology, are made from the best leather, and are both stylish and durable.

INSULATION

THINSULATE™ INSULATION

Developed by 3M, Thinsulate™ is made of unique microfibers which imprison the air and reflects body heat twice as much as all other insulating fibers of comparable thickness. Moreover, because Thinsulate™ absorbs less than 1% of its weight in water, it preserves its insulating qualities even in moisture.
